“Providers who don’t compete on price typically don’t compete on quality either. And the reason we don’t see price or quality competition in health care is that normal market forces have been systematically suppressed for well over a hundred years.” – John C. Goodman - Forbes

No Quality Metrics

There are no standardized quality metrics for Outpatient Centers in America, only CMS Guidelines for Hospitals.

Infection Risk

Patients risk of infection is 5X higher in a Hospital setting versus an Outpatient setting.

No Quality Network

Standard national network requirements lack quality checkpoints for facilities and surgeons – Everyone is In-Network.

"Recently, I had an opportunity to take advantage of the KISx Program offered by my employer. I had a wonderful experience every step of the way, whether with the efficiency of KISx working with me or the excellent care and compassion of the orthopedic specialists who performed my surgery and follow up. I received a significant dividend for using the program and at the same time I was also able to save my employer a large sum of money. I would recommend this program to anyone."
